Tapco, Inc. –Cheers!

OHM is celebration 15 YEARS with TAPCO Group— 2008

Tapco is a leader in the building materials industry for over 40 years. OHM first started with Tapco through one of their divisions in Metamora MI. Through that association and the leadership of an extremely progressive “then” IT manager, Bill Barr, he was able to see the dynamics of the OHMTools which he then started using for his internal system to all divisions. Over a period of time and a long and great relationship, Bill now the VP of IT continues to use all of OHM’s standard modules in conjunction to using the OHMWeb tools to create specific requirements to their industry. Tapco in May 2002 was the first OHM client to go live on the OHM-WEB version of OHM’s CCERP manufacturing software. Tapco deployed the OHM-WEB application to 11 facilities in the US and an overseas operation in the UK.

IBM confirms price increase after 15 years of the base products to the North American Market, effective January 1, 2009. An approximate 5% increase to all the IBM database and tools products will take place on orders placed January 1, 2009 forward. This will extend to all maintenance renewals that renew in 2009.

OHM/IBM

U2 University

OHM has been a GOLD level sponsor to recent IBM university conferences. We visited with our Australian clients as well as participated in IBM Sydney training in August, further showcasing OHM’s Web-centric tools to other developers to help move developers applications to a web environment. OHM just back from the September San Diego IBM university conference will be in Atlanta October 6-9, 2008. For anyone interested in attending the IBM training see OHM’s website with IBM registration link. The final of the four sessions will be in the UK, end of October.
